WHAT TOOLS DO YOU USE AND WHY? WHAT IS YOUR HISTORY?

From the editor

With the Summer Solstice coming up fast, June ushers in the magical season of Summer. Everything around us enters a phase of growth and prosperity, and the more we tune into these vibrations of expansion and growth, the more we see them at work in our own lives.

The Sun is also making its way through Gemini, so we're profiling one of the world's most famous natives of this sign. Angelina Jolie has worked her way up from small roles in B-movies to the heights of the entertainment world. We consider the ways in which Spirit has influenced her life and career.

We're honoured to have a guest column from Marie Reynolds, a London-based wellness therapist who beautifies skin not only by treating the exterior, but by working on a deeper energetic level.

Next, everybody has a wealth of psychic jewels within them; it's just a matter of learning how to "crack your psychic safe." We explore ways to do exactly that, and live a more fulfilling psychic life in the process.

Finally, our featured reader this month is Poppy Weir, a very special psychic who uses pen and paper to augment her psychic readings through words and drawings. Our clients have nothing but great things to say about her!

We hope you'll stay in touch during this magical Summer months, and thanks as always for making us the most respected psychic service in the USA!

The tools I use are simply a sketch pad and writing instruments. I pick up a pen, a yellow highlighter, a red crayon, black lead pencil, etc., upon hearing a caller's voice, even before my hand starts to move over the paper. Even that choice of implement seems to steer me as I sketch, doodle and draw. I analyze my sketches, but often find my hand stops when I am really connecting with a person and it goes deeper than the drawing. The sketching is a starting point for me and the drawings tell me a lot about the person I am listening to. I became aware of this phenomena early in my adult life while doodling and chatting on the phone. Often my sketches told me as much as the person's words.

ONE REMARKABLE STORY FROM A RECENT CLIENT?

I am a new reader with CCP. Recently I found myself drawing a turtle and my client informed me that it is a strong symbol in her life and she even has it as a screensaver on her computer. The number 44 jumped onto my page with another caller and it turned out to be the street address of her parent's home. This led her to talk about some family issues she needed to explore. Another time, I predicted that a man would meet a young woman, possible a pharmacy technician. I was pleasantly surprised when he informed me that he is indeed a pharmacist himself, and there is a woman in that field that he has been interested in.

WHEN DID YOU FIRST DISCOVER THAT YOU WERE PSYCHIC?

I have always picked up on tensions in a room and been able to read the feelings. Often as a child I could sense the presence of someone who had visited in our home in my absence; I could feel their energy afterwards. My parents would ask how I knew they had been there, and shake their heads. I think my father had psychic abilities but he never pursued them. He knew my son had been in an accident before he was notified, and had my mother call to ask about it.

WHAT ARE YOUR TALENTS AND WHAT DO THEY MEAN?

I am still learning about my psychic abilities. Often times, I am as stunned as anybody by how accurate my "feelings" are. I do not label myself as anything but a psychic sketcher and I am still uncertain, even afraid at times, to find out how far I can go with my psychic abilities. As a person who believes in God, I sometimes struggle with the concept but have come to accept that all human abilities are God-given. I realize that as long as I use my abilities and talents to help others and be a positive influence in my dealings with people, my spiritual world is perfectly harmonious.

WHY DO YOU ENJOY WORKING FOR CRYSTAL CLEAR PSYCHICS?

As a new reader, I've had so much support and patience, from my first point of contact, Lauren, to the reception people who answer the phones, and Sapphire, another reader who has mentored me. It is a highly ethical company, very established and very upfront and open. I received lots of literature to help me, including a code of conduct and a handbook which spells out the ethics of the company. As a reader, I am strongly supported, so all I have to do is concentrate fully on my clients. The clients are number one at CCP, and the readers give them their undivided attention every time.

Love and Light,

Lauren X

GEMINI SPIRIT

So you want to make it in Hollywood? It helps to have stunning looks, famous parents, and serious talent. But even if you tick all the boxes, you still have to work your way up the ladder. And to become as big a celebrity as Angelina Jolie, you need star power of the astrological variety to back you up!

What psychic forces shaped the life story of this enigmatic personality, and made her into one of the most influential people in the entertainment world?

Angelina Jolie was born on the 4th of June, 1975, making her a Gemini in the year of the Tiger. Although she was born in Los Angeles to famous parents—the actors Jon Voight and Marcheline Bertrand—her early years were relatively low-key. When her parents separated before her first birthday, she and her brother went to live with Marcheline, who put her film career on hold to focus on the children. Angelina's father would land her a small part in a film when she was five years old—her first taste of life in front of the camera—but it was Marcheline who nurtured her interest in filmmaking. The two would often watch movies together, and young Angelina was transfixed by the possibilities of storytelling through images.

At Beverly Hills High School, she felt like something of an outcast among the school's largely affluent student body. She was thin, she wore glasses and braces, and her mother lived on a modest income. Eventually she moved to another school, where she took on a "punk" persona, dressing in all black and eventually dropping out of theatre to study embalming.

Tiger is known for being bold, expressive and confident. But unless those qualities are tamed and brought into focus by other energies, they can translate into rebellious, erratic and even self-destructive patterns of behaviour. This may be what happened during Angelina's late-teenaged years as she experimented with drugs, fell into bouts of depression, and suffered severe insomnia. The ethereal traits of Gemini may have kept her curiosity high, and allowed her to remain somewhat detached from her personal problems, but her Western sign did little to ground her during this difficult coming-of-age. Angelina admits having a hard time connecting emotionally with other people during these years, which can be one of Gemini's downsides.

It was the adoption of her first child, Maddox, at the age of 26 that finally allowed Angelina to direct her formidable psychic energies in a positive direction. She was already a film star by that point, having starred in the cult classic Hackers as well as The Bone Collector, Gone in 60 Seconds, Lara Croft: Tomb Raider, and many others. But she had yet to gain notoriety as a serious talent worthy of heavyweight roles. This was soon to come. As her brave, confident Tiger nature began to shine in a new mature way, Angelina's late twenties saw her in a string of more serious films, including Beyond Borders opposite Clive Owen, and the Oliver Stone-directed Alexander.

As Angelina's Tiger continued to roar, her cerebral side also became more visible and endearing on-screen. Gemini exudes intelligence and wit, and it soon became obvious that Angelina Jolie wasn't just any movie star. Her stubborn, authoritative Tiger streak was accented by a strong Aries moon, which made her a force to be reckoned with in Hollywood's highly competitive landscape. These qualities also blended sublimely with her Gemini intelligence, which allowed her to turn on the charm both on-screen and behind the scenes.

What happened next is history. Angelina's star burned brighter and brighter in the first decade of the 21st century, until she became one of the most powerful people in the entertainment world. Her two subsequent adoptions and three biological children, her marriage to Brad Pitt, and her involvement with the United Nations (among many other humanitarian and political efforts) made her life the subject of intense scrutiny; but she also became a respectable figure in humanitarian circles, and made a critically-praised directorial debut with Unbroken. Since then, more than a few new rumours have been swirling. Is Angelina now being tipped to direct some of Hollywood's biggest upcoming productions? Might she even run for office one day? Anything is possible. With a strong sense of family values and helping the needy, Angelina's fascinating psychic traits will undoubtedly continue to open up new doors in her life.

Horoscopes

June 2015

Check out today's horoscopes at crystalclearpsychics.com/horoscopes.html

Aries

There's plenty of lively interaction in store with opportunities for making friends, creating business possibilities and generally keeping in touch and staying busy. Mercury forges ahead from June 11th, so you can go ahead with plans that have been on trodden water. Later in the month, a more homely ambiance sees you initiating one or two family gatherings or DIY projects.

Cancer

Deciding where your loyalties lie can be a priority over the weeks ahead, and this month is no different. And your feelings can give you valuable feedback on key situations in your life and about any changes that might prove to be beneficial. Once the Sun and Mars enter your sign on the 22nd and 25th respectively, you'll feel energized and ready to make any important decisions and to act upon them.

Taurus

Getting your finances in order can give you a head start this month. As Venus glides into your home zone on the 6th, you may feel moved to redecorate, making things brighter or conversely spend time enhancing your outdoor space. By week three the mood changes however, and it becomes important to pay attention to intuitive nudges, for one could save you time and some money.

Leo

Your social life seems especially active, with encounters bringing fresh opportunities to expand your horizons. Indeed, once talk and thought planet Mercury moves forwards from June 11th this will help you to gain traction with key situations too. However, from June 21st you enter a period when making time to reflect on life can also be important, and an old face may re-emerge.

Gemini

You can be in your element this month with opportunities to do more of the things you love. Whether it's studying, fact-finding, buying or selling, you can truly excel Gemini. And as Mercury pushes ahead from the 11th, things should begin to move even faster. The New Moon on June 16th can be excellent for new beginnings, and especially romance wise.

Virgo

The chances are you'll really strive to surpass yourself and make your dreams come true in June. The focus on the Solar Midheaven of your chart hints at opportunities to expand your reach and generally showcase your talents. Even greater energy will flow in once your ruler Mercury edges forward, with the Gemini New Moon on June 16th encouraging a new star professionally or some kind of promotion. Pleasingly, your social life looks lively too Virgo.

Libra

Venus's dance into Leo early in June enhances your romantic and social potential, encouraging lively encounters and the chance of some fun dates. It seems the accent is on learning and experiences that can broaden your outlook. Finances though may need extra care as Saturn reverses back into Scorpio from the 15th. Don't be daunted Libra, for there will be opportunities to increase your income too.

Capricorn

June could see you busy keeping all the plates spinning, but you may enjoy this too, as lively encounters, interesting projects and a chance to demonstrate your natural flair can show up for you. Your canny ability to read between the lines when liaising with others might also help you forge stronger bonds, particularly later in the month.

Scorpio

You may find that you need to show maximum concentration and dedication this month. Wait until after June 11th before you sign a contract though, so as to allow one to progress smoothly. In addition, you can also be excited by some of the options open to you regarding travel, study and a chance to broaden your horizons, especially in the last week of June.

Aquarius

Romance and other pleasure options appeal and should be taken seriously. Give yourself permission do more entertaining and delightful things - so don't stint on fun! The New Moon on June 16th can be helpful for kick starting a strand with a creative bias or asking that special person on a date. The last week of the month could see you upping your exercise routine.

Sagittarius

Life can generally keep you busy with deals being struck, compromises agreed and information shared, particularly once Mercury turns direct on the 11th. Opportunities may show up out of the blue, so be ready to grab them. The wise use of resources could mean you save enough to snap-up a longed for purchase or perhaps even book a holiday.

Pisces

Unexpected visitors, planned guests and opportunities to entertain are possible this month Pisces. All this can see you enjoy a positive time for your overall popularity. And with Mercury dancing ahead from June 11th, you can move ahead with some ambitious projects, including renting or buying property. The last week however, could see you dazzle someone rather sultry.

THE SKIN PSYCHIC

MARIE REYNOLDS

My treatments are based on Noetic Science, how energy effects matter, in other words how thoughts and emotions affect the human form. Now, I have been called The Skin Psychic before, a term that I am not really comfortable with but I understand that with the tools I have and teach to observe what is happening with an individual emotionally, mentally and physically, it may seem that way. I work intuitively with energies and I read the body in a way that has been fine-tuned over thirty years. I read books and study the physics of microorganisms to study heat and energy communications in the body and this is where my interest lies.

Intuition is something we all are gifted with; it is not some hippie fad or new age rubbish that the sceptics like to throw out. In fact, my favourite clients are the ones who are defensive or what I call 'blockers'. You see, there are some that live in fear, you often find the people who shout the loudest, hurl negatives and try to devalue what you do are the most fearful, they go on the front foot and try to 'derail' which to the most part they succeed, however I can see through that and there are reasons for it. I would often say these individuals are 'not ready'...yet!

The intuitive mind is something we all have, yet ignore and not trust. The process of tapping in to a sense or feeling is a gift. Within my Spinal Code treatment and The Fifth Concept my fingers 'see' and 'feel' what the body tissues, muscles, tendons and fascia are telling them. I communicate with my clients body, I do not just go on what my clients tell me in consultation but what I see in body language, what I hear in voice tone and speed of speech and what I sense in the fingers, how the communication of body tissues act within treatment, and believe me they do communicate. I have been able to tell from my Spinal Code treatment if clients have emotional issues linking with a particular parent, if they have had a blood transfusion or if they have emotional traumas, just by feeling implicit tissue memory (this is the memory of an experience laid down in the body tissues)

Every thought we have impacts our emotions, every emotion impacts the physical (you only have to think of a traumatic experience, what happens? raise of heart rate, sickness in pit of the stomach) and every physical response impacts our behavior. Without doubt, one of the tell-tale signs of someone in that fear state is a switch on of the fight or flight response, a question may be asked, or a statement said and it is absorbed through thought, emotions kick in – panic, fear and the physical response will be sweaty palms, feet etc.

Everything has a vibration – Vibrations resonate at different speeds and as human beings we pick up vibrations, they affect how we feel, what we think and how we act. A good example of this is when we listen to music, soft, gentle music can soothe us to a state of relaxation, vibrant, upbeat music can make us feel happy and energized, and loud screeching head banging music, to some, can give you a headache and immediately make you feel tense.

Have you ever had the experience of someone being in a room and literally lighting it up with their presence? They are the life and soul of the party. These are the people who are on our wave length and can motivate with their positivity but there may be other times when some one has walked in to a room and you could cut the atmosphere with a knife. They emit negative energy and drain you, these types of people I call 'Emotional Vampires'

Chain reactions within the body happen as soon as negativity hits. This can be in the form of stress from environmental factors, emotional factors or physical factors.

Remember we can not control what life throws at us but we can control HOW it effects us, we have control of our thought process, sometimes it is hard to control especially when we are faced with traumatic or stressful situations but we do have the ability to turn that thought process around from an impossible to a possible, a negative to a positive.

Marie Reynolds is a celebrated Wellness & Facial Expert in the UK. Her treatments deal not only with the physical causes of skin problems, but also the thought patterns that effect how our skin acts and behaves. Reach her at www.mariereynoldsiondon.com

CRACK YOUR PSYCHIC SAFE

What if there were a psychic safe inside us all, full of gifts just waiting to be discovered? And what if there were a way to access this mysterious vault and claim its treasures once and for all? The truth is that your psychic gifts are real, and as difficult as it may seem, there is a way to reach them. Using only a sharpened awareness and practical set of tools, you can crack your psychic safe in no time.

CASE OUT THE TERRITORY

In any good heist movie, the master thief begins by learning everything she can about the environment, the building, the personnel and security systems. She is dedicated to the task of entering a highly-protected room, and is willing to study it from every angle.

The difference here, of course, is that we are recovering jewels that already belong to us! Still, we can learn something from this master thief. In order to access our psychic gifts, we must find the same level of dedication within ourselves. We must be willing to study the problem from every angle, day-in and day-out, until we know it by heart.

At this point, you may find yourself asking a perfectly logical question: "If there are psychic abilities stashed within me, then what is standing in my way? What security systems prevent me from cracking open this psychic safe?"

BYPASS SECURITY

Our task is different from that of the master thief because the security system we must bypass—just like the treasure it guards—is part of us. Since this is the case, it isn't a question of playing tricks or sneaking about, but of understanding how and why the security system was built in the first place.

The primary security system which guards our psychic abilities is—are you ready?—the conscious mind. In other words, our psychic abilities are blocked by rational, everyday awareness. And for good reason, too. If we were completely open to psychic energies all the time, 24 hours per day, it would be far too much for the mind-body-spirit complex to take in. That's why professional psychics talk about 'turning off' their sensitivity when it's time to relax. Psychic states are a natural part of human life, but not even professionals are designed to be in those states every waking moment. This is precisely why our security systems have been put in place. They allow us to maintain a healthy balance between our own psyche and the vast ocean of energies around us.

The good news is, the process of bypassing your security system can start with a few simple exercises.

First, why not remind yourself that psychic gifts do exist, and that you do possess them? When this simple affirmation is repeated as often as possible (silently or aloud), it allows you to move beyond the conscious mind and draw nearer to your psychic safe.

Second, familiarise yourself with meditation and visualisation techniques. It may help to set aside fifteen minutes each day, during which you close your eyes, go within, and allow images to flash across your inner screen. Seeing, feeling and sensing are equally valid when it comes to psychic development. Don't be disappointed if you can't see things like you would on movie screen—this is only one of many possibilities. The important thing is that you begin connect with other people and energies through your own unique gifts.

Third, actively practice on the world around you. Is your phone ringing? Make an attempt to know who is calling before you answer. Is your partner unusually quiet? Close your eyes and try to see what's wrong on a psychic level before you ask verbally. Did a random thought just pop into your head? Don't write it off—stay with it and find out where it came from. These may seem like insignificant exercises, but they strengthen your ability to bypass the rational mind and access your inner vault. Once inside, you'll be surprised at how accurate your impressions can be!

TRUST YOUR EXPERIENCE

Our master thief believes in her own expertise. She knows that her skills are sufficiently developed to handle the big job, and her confidence propels her through many obstacles. As you begin to access your psychic safe, you will soon begin to trust your instincts and clearly assert your psychic impressions. Both your rational mind (security system) and subconscious mind (psychic safe) will begin to agree that you are sufficiently skilled and prepared to handle your psychic tools—whether they involve spirit guides, telepathy, clairvoyance, or any number of gifts you may find within you. This is when things can really take off!

There is no limit to how much you can develop psychically, and there are a plethora of people and resources to help you in various aspects of psychic training. But remember: More than anything, it is the ability to trust yourself which allows you to access your psychic safe when you need it—and to leave the way you came with no disturbance!

Our psychics can help! Call 1-866-929-0635
